A Message from our CEO

Caring can be both wonderful and tough. We know that mothers, sons, fathers, daughters, friends, lovers, partners, husbands, wives, and family do so much for others every day, while trying to maintain a life for themselves.

We have all struggled in the last year to maintain a life for ourselves. The family and friend carers we work with have been trying to do that while supporting someone else through a scary and unrelenting pandemic.

As a charity team we deliver a carer facing helpline offering information, guidance, and practical support. We work with carers providing emotional, specialist, peer support and learning. We are privileged to work with carers, communities, and partners in the county of West Sussex and throughout the south east of England.

No matter what the challenges during the year we have continued to meet carers at whatever point they are at on their carer journey, offering them recognition and empowerment, as well as a sense of community from their peers.

As part of our overall charity review, we have engaged through a survey and a series of six focus groups, with over

1,000 carers and almost 200 organisations & individuals who make a difference to carers every day.

We are focusing our charitable efforts over the coming years on what works for carers. We want to bring the day forward when carers are seen, heard, and included.

Making an impact and taking the initiative

In March 2020, as everyone across the country began to be impacted by the Coronavirus, we rapidly modified the way in which we supported carers. Our priority was to keep everyone safe while continuing to support the increasing needs of carers who were becoming more and more isolated.

We listened to carers throughout the year and secured funding for six new services:

Online connections

Bilingual counselling

Telephone befriending

Young Adult Carers Counselling Project

Bereavement counselling

Carer wellbeing

Bereavement Support

Being bereaved during lockdown meant carers in this position were unable to reach out to natural support networks, such as family and friends.

A bereavement pilot project supported

17 recently bereaved carers

through the 'cycle of grief' and improved their online connectivity. A number of these carers have continued to get support through our successfully relaunched Former Carers Group.

“ The Digital Champion Volunteer has been a great support and I can now do things that I was not able to access before ”

Digital Champions

We supported carers to connect digitally and socially to reduce feelings of isolation and loneliness.

was allocated in supplying laptops and tablets to over

85 carers

with volunteers working as Digital Champions providing them with support.

“ I am very grateful for this opportunity. It feels like the most positive thing that has happened since H passed. To talk and listen to others who are in a similar situation; to maintain phone and online contact...Thank you so much ”
